

Guaymallen – Age-friendly assessment

The Municipality of Guaymallén has been working alongside the National Institute of Social Services for Retirees and Pensioners –INSSJP-PAMI – of Argentina and launched the Program “For friendly cities and communities with older adults” on July 2016. Furthermore and as from August 2016, our city has been participating actively on this Program by completing the different phases. Currently the team is about to complete the stage of qualitative research.

Moreover, we have been receiving technical support as well as guidance and trainings during the course of 2016 and 2017, which have been dictated by the specialists from the INSSJP- PAMI, in order to acquire the required skills and knowledge for the development of this Program. These trainings have been very useful for our technical team since they have acquired those tools for a correct research and implementation of the different steps of the Program.
