

CITY OF SUNNYVALE

*The Heart of Silicon Valley*SM

456 WEST OLIVE AVENUE

SUNNYVALE, CALIFORNIA 94086

(408) 730-7480

June 30, 2017

Dr. Lisa Warth
World Health Organization Global Network of Age Friendly Cities and Communities
20 Avenue Appia
121 1 Geneva 27
Switzerland

Dear Members of the World Health Organization,

On behalf of the City of Sunnyvale, I am pleased to submit the enclosed materials in application for official designation by the World Health Organization as an Age-Friendly City.

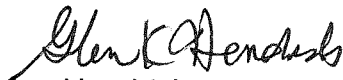

The City of Sunnyvale, located in the heart of Silicon Valley, is proud of its diversity and is committed to efforts that engage all segments of our population in shaping the future of our city.

The City of Sunnyvale is working collaboratively with Age-Friendly Silicon Valley to build awareness and support for age-friendly initiatives throughout our region. To date, the City has convened stakeholder focus group meetings and initiated a baseline survey to assess current conditions in Sunnyvale. Last Tuesday, the City Council unanimously adopted a resolution in support of this application and the project team is moving forward on establishing a task force to continue the development of a three-year action plan.

On behalf of my colleagues and the City of Sunnyvale, I would like to thank you for your consideration and look forward to the opportunity to working with like-minded agencies throughout the world to provide our residents with the tools and resources to remain healthy and active in our community.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "Glenn Hendricks". The signature is written in a cursive style with a large initial "G".

Glenn Hendricks
Mayor

CC: Deanna Santana, City Manager
Cynthia Bojorquez, Director of Library and Community Services
Manuel Pineda, Director of Public Works
Trudi Ryan, Director of Community Development