

Letter of commitment from the Mayor

『Embrace and generosity coexist.』 Declaration on the Development of an Aging-Friendly City

Jinju city is a river city with a thousand years of history, and has been a loyal and educational city since ancient times, and is the oldest cultural and artistic city in the province. Based on this foundation, we declare the following to create an aging-friendly city where embrace and generosity coexist by wisely coping with the global phenomenon of becoming a super-aging society.

First, we will create a safe and convenient environment to make Jinju City where we want to stay come true. We will try to become a city where we want to stay by creating an eco-friendly forest, installing CCTVs to prevent crime, improving convenience facilities for the weak, and improving residential environment, and so on for the elderly.

First, we will make sure to have “ a happy retirement” through pleasant leisure activities and leisurely social participation. We will make old age a pleasant, leisurely and happy life, as supporting healthy sports activities, expanding cultural and artistic spaces, creating customized jobs, supporting social activities, and modernizing Anrak parks.

First, we will support ‘healthy retirement life’ through communication and care. We will make it an open city where embrace and generosity coexist through strengthening problem-solving capabilities through information provision, creating a generation-integrated space, integrated care for artificial intelligence, and operating a dementia safety center.

In order to solve the problems of the aging society, Jinju City will create an aging-friendly city through civic consensus and spread of empathy, delivering a message of hope to the needy like the Jinju City’ s mascot "Hamo," and take the lead in creating a "Jinju City where embrace and generosity coexist."

In addition, with this declaration, we will strive to grow together as a member of the "aging-friendly city" international network that can help solve the world’s common aging problem.
