Executive Summary

Introduction

The purpose of the DRCOG Boomer Bond Assessment tool is to assist local governments and partnering organizations evaluate how the existing resources, plans, regulations, programs, and community design features serve older adult residents. The DRCOG Boomer Bond Assessment tool is divided into four distinct assessment categories, they are:

1. Mobility and Access
2. Housing
3. Community Living
4. Support Services

Diverse Engagement and Input

In an effort to gain a comprehensive understanding of all aspects of our community that interact with and impact aging adults, a diverse selection of representatives from various city departments was assembled. Members with particular knowledge in many different disciplines were engaged in the process of reviewing the four assessment categories.

City departments and divisions represented in the meetings included the following:

- City Development
- Long Range Planning
- Human Resources
- Parks, Recreation, and Community Programs
- Older Adults Programs and Services
- Housing and Neighborhood Services
- Community Connections
- Infrastructure
- Traffic Engineering
- Streets Operations
- Fire Department
- Police Department
- City Manager's Office

In addition, representatives of DRCOG and the Senior Hub, a local provider of senior services, were in attendance at each meeting and contributed valuable information to the process.

Process Overview

The Thornton Boomer Bond Assessment Team met four times to establish a common purpose and complete the four assessment tools. When certain group members had specialized knowledge of a category, they completed that section in advance and brought their responses to the meeting. In all meetings, team members were encouraged and given the opportunity to share their insights, concerns, and questions. The responses which resulted from those conversations reflect the input received from the entire group.

The project team leaders then took the information gathered from the meetings and drafted the City of Thornton Boomer Bond Assessment Summary Report. A draft of this report was provided to the entire team for review and comment before the final document was completed.

Goals of the Assessment

The goals of this assessment process are to determine where the Thornton community stands in regard to programs, facilities, and resources that serve the aging component of our population, as well as to identify gaps and challenges to providing a healthy environment for that segment of the population. As a result, this assessment may serve as a means to identify policies, projects, and/or programs that the Thornton community wishes to build or improve upon in the future.

Summary of Key Findings

Thornton does a good job of providing an environment and services that meet the needs of an aging population. As development standards and city services have expanded, the availability of programs which enable seniors to live in safe, accessible, and reliable have improved ways as well. Thornton does an excellent job of collaborating with other agencies to help ensure that the needs of an aging population are being met.

Thornton also has room to improve. This report includes lists of items which should be examined. These may include infrastructure enhancements, new or updated programs, access to information, or the provision of services which enable aging people to maintain a healthy lifestyle. As our community continues to grow and age, the opportunities to serve the older members of our society will continue to improve as well.

It is important for Thornton to maintain a schedule of updating its assessment of senior-related needs, services, partnerships, programs, and infrastructure. Needs will change over time. New organizations will form. Technology will advance. Laws will be updated. All of these things must be taken into account and assessed properly in the years to come.

Thornton Overview

Geography

Thornton is located just northeast of Denver and is currently the sixth largest city in the State of Colorado by population. It is located entirely within the western part of Adams County, but may grow into the southern part of Weld County in the years ahead.

Generally, Thornton is bordered by the City and County of Broomfield to the northwest and the cities of Westminster, Northglenn, and Federal Heights to the west. Thornton borders unincorporated Adams County to the south and east, with the northern boundary of Denver a short distance to our south, Commerce City to the east and southeast, and Brighton to the northeast. Much of Thornton's existing northern boundary is also the boundary between Adams and Weld County, although its growth area extends well into Weld County. Thornton's nearest municipal neighbors to the north are Frederick and Ft. Lupton.

History

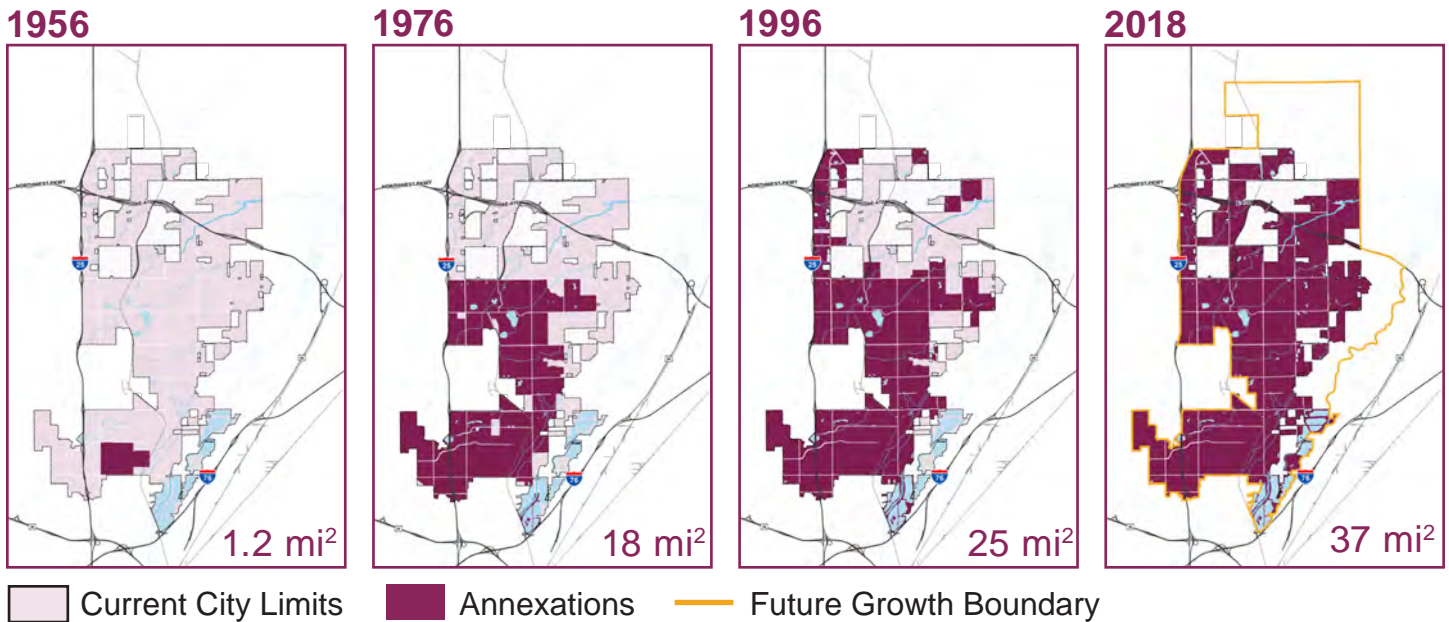

Thornton was incorporated as a Colorado city on Saturday, May 26, 1956 with an initial population of 8,640 and a total area of one square mile. The first City Council meeting was held on Thursday, August 30 of that year.

Thornton's population has grown steadily since its establishment, expanding to over 13,000 by 1970, exceeding 40,000 in 1980, and topping 80,000 in 2000. Since its inception, Thornton's average growth rate has been approximately 4.5% per year. Geographically, Thornton has also grown to its current size over 37 square miles and has the potential to expand to over 60 square miles.

Today and into the Future

At the end of 2018, Thornton had approximately 140,509 residents living in a total of 48,868 living units. Thornton's housing diversity consists of approximately 63% single-family homes, 14% attached homes (town homes and duplexes), 17% apartments, and 6% manufactured homes.

Thornton anticipates continued growth for the next several decades and estimates a total population in the range of 190,000 – 205,000 by 2040.

City of Thornton Facilities and Programs for Aging Residents

Active Adult Center

Thornton’s Active Adult Center is located in original Thornton. The facility contains approximately 11,500 square feet and was renovated in 2014. Programming includes more than 250 different programs and services annually, which includes classes, health and fitness programs, trips, and special events. The center has approximately 60,000 visits annually.

The city’s new Active Adult Center will be located on the southwest corner of 112th Avenue and Colorado Boulevard, just to the north and east of the existing Margaret Carpenter Recreation Center. The design process kicked off with the public input phase in early 2018 to gather input on community programming needs.

Construction completion and opening of the new facility is planned in 2020.

Trail Winds Recreation Center

Additionally, Thornton’s Trail Winds Recreation Center opened in fall of 2019. This is an entirely new, 87,000 square foot recreation facility located at the southwest corner of 136th Avenue and Holly Street. It has designated program space for older adults including a lounge, classrooms for programs, shared multipurpose space, and a wellness center.

non-profits, the faith-based community, government organizations, and other partners to best connect community members with the services they seek. From helping Thornton residents meet their basic needs for food, clothing, and shelter, to linking them with social and mental health supports, Thornton's Community Connections Division offers a tailored selection of programming to meet individual needs.

Thornton's Community Connections Division addresses the needs of older adults in our community by coordinating the following programs:

- Meeting with agencies that serve seniors to learn about their offerings and eligibility for things like transportation assistance, medical equipment lending, kinship (i.e. grandparents raising grandchildren) programs, legal resources, and beyond.
- Participating in outreach to connect with seniors at conferences, senior-focused meetings, and other special events with the goal of informing seniors of the community-based programs and services available to them.
- Building relationships with staff and residents at senior living communities so that there is greater comfort in reaching out when a need arises.
- Providing minor home repair programs which can help seniors to age in place, safely in their homes.

- Use Community Development Block Grant dollars to fund senior services and housing.
- Oversee Thornton Assistance Funds grants allocated to nonprofits, many of which, serve seniors.
- Determining eligibility for the Senior Property and Food Sales Tax Rebate Program that helps to return some of the taxes paid back to seniors.
- Administering a water assistance program for low-income individuals, including seniors, struggling to pay their water bill.
- Partner with organizations that bring programming into our space such as Alzheimer's support groups and a senior peer counseling program.

Demographic Trends

The older population in the United States and Colorado is an important and growing segment of its population. Colorado has the 6th lowest share in the Nation among states of its population over the age 65. Between 2010 and 2018 Colorado's population aged 65 and over grew by 45% (250,000).

Since 2010, Colorado's growth in its 65 plus population was 3rd fastest in the US. Nearly 95% of the growth in Colorado's older adult population since 2010 has been the result of current residents aging in place.

Colorado's Aging Population

The aging of Colorado is a significant change for many reasons. Colorado currently does not have a large share of its population over 65 due to its migration pattern that has historically attracted well-educated young adults between the ages of 23 – 35. The Baby Boomer generation, born 1946 to 1964, and ages 54-72 in 2018, are 1.2 million strong in Colorado and the larger tail end of this generation will be entering the over 65 age cohort over the next 12 years.

According to the Colorado State Demography Office, aging of the population is forecast to increase the Colorado population over 65 by just over 500,000 or 68% between 2018 and 2030. By 2030, all Baby Boomers will be older than age 65. This will expand the size of the older population so that 1 in every 5 residents in Colorado as well as the nation will be retirement age.

The fastest growth in Colorado for the 65 and older population will be along the Front Range and Western Slope. Adams County is forecast to have the 3rd fastest growing population of ages 65 and over in the Denver-Boulder Metropolitan Area, behind Douglas and Boulder Counties. In Adams County, the number of residents in this age range is expected to grow 54% from 53,000 in 2018 to 81,500 by 2030, an increase of 28,500.

Thornton's Aging Population

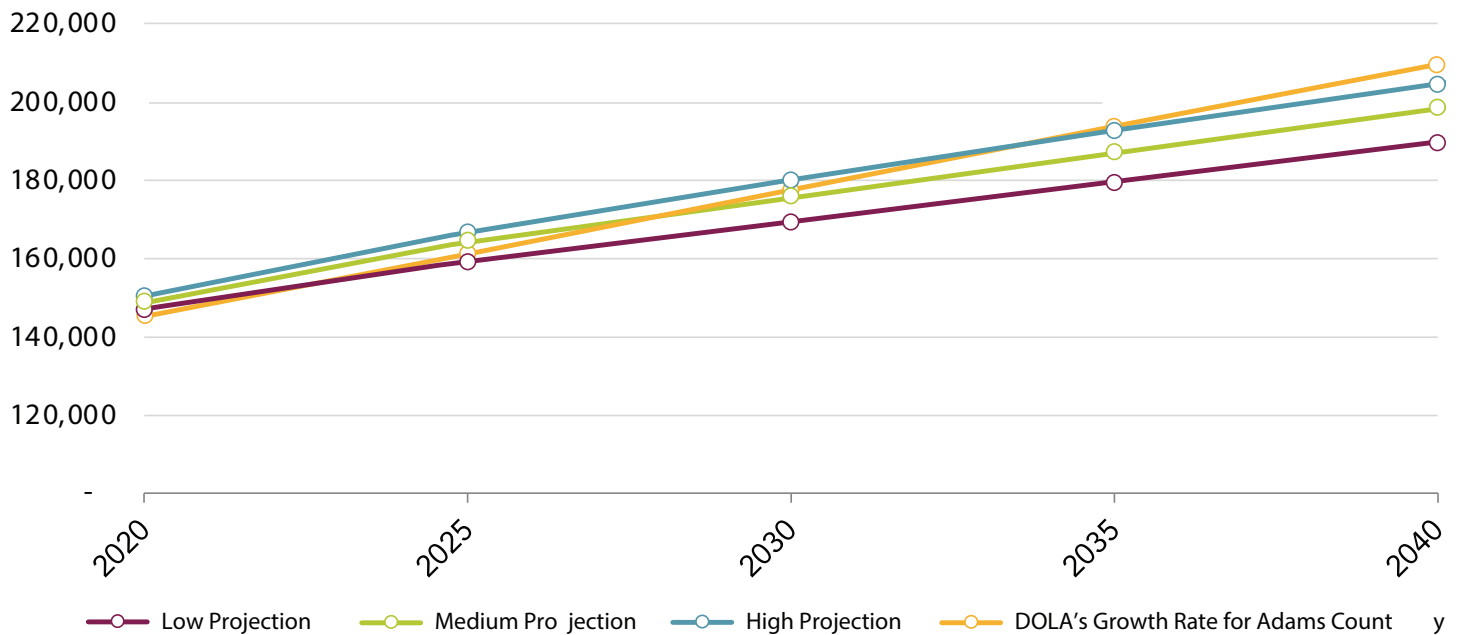

Thornton's total population will continue to grow through 2040, reaching between 190,000 and 205,000 people. According to the US Census Bureau American Community Survey, in 2017 just over 10% (14,000) of Thornton's residents were ages 65 and over. If current Thornton residents continue to age in place, Thornton's population over age 65 will more than double over the next 11 years as Thornton has 21,000 current residents who will be turning age 65 by the year 2030.

The significant growth in the population over 65 from 2018 through 2030 will impact Colorado and Thornton in multiple ways primarily because the 65+ age group on average, buys, works, lives, and receives services differently from other age groups. Growth in the 65+ population will impact the labor force, economic development, housing, transportation, health services, and public finance just to name a few. As the 65+ population is projected to grow three times faster than the under 65 population through 2030, Colorado and Thornton must be ready to confront both the challenges and opportunities this growth generates.

DRCOG Boomer Bond Program Overview

In anticipation of the Denver region experiencing continued unprecedented growth in the aging population, DRCOG's Boomer Bond initiative is helping local governments around the region assess their current status and create age-friendly physical and social environments. These will help older adults remain in their homes and communities for as long as they desire.

Key Boomer Bond elements include:

- Assessment Tool designed to assist local communities in evaluating existing resources, programs, and infrastructure.
- Online Resource Directory of age-friendly resources and best practices from around the region, nation, and world. The Online Resource Directory can be accessed here: <https://drcog.org/resource-directory>

The Boomer Bond Assessment Tool and Online Resource Directory are companion elements to help communities assess current circumstances and existing resources, understand community strengths and deficiencies, identify short-and long-term priorities, and confidently implement strategies that contribute to healthy successful aging.

Objectives of the Boomer Bond Program are as follows:

- Provide tools and resources to foster dialogue on the impacts of an aging population.
- Provide information to local governments to help them plan for and effectively serve their older citizens.
- Provide examples of community features that can benefit older adults as well as people of all ages and abilities.
- Recognize communities that are working to create an age-friendly region.
- Promote regional cooperation and commitment to creating communities that work for a lifetime.

Thornton's Boomer Bond Assessment process involved all participants in in-depth reviews of each of the four areas identified by DRCOG as key in conducting a thorough review. The following is a summary of the results of each review with some primary themes identified. The assessment instruments can be reviewed in the appendices section of this document.

Thornton Boomer Bond Assessment Results

Mobility and Access

In regard to mobility and access, Thornton scores quite well in a number of categories. The city does an excellent job of designing and constructing new infrastructure in ways that are well-suited for mobility-impaired people. Senior-friendly designs and features are incorporated into new developments by regulation and are also seen more and more in redeveloped areas.

As properties in the more established parts of our community are renewed over time, modern infrastructure and amenities are incorporated into them. Thornton also does well in partnering with other agencies and organizations to advocate on behalf of our citizens on a regional level for equitable access to transportation services for everyone.

Much of Thornton was built prior to the establishment of modern development standards and therefore significant portions of the community do not meet current expectations of accessibility for mobility-impaired people. Thornton is also a very automobile-oriented community and therefore must work hard in the future to actively seek, design, and implement ways to modify our existing infrastructure to meaningfully increase the safety of and ease of access for pedestrians, cyclists, and others who are unable, or choose not to use automobiles as their primary means of transportation.

Generally Good

New public sidewalks are generally designed and built to provide the following:

- Access to essential services for older adults
- Minimum sidewalk widths of five feet
- ADA compliant ramps at all intersections
- Visual and physical cues for pedestrians and drivers at all intersections
- Level landings where driveways intersect public sidewalks to retain a level path for pedestrians
- Minimal tripping hazards from uneven surfaces or protruding objects
- Directional signage for pedestrians

- Public transportation in the form of bus service and the anticipated new N line of the RTD FastTracks system, which is expected to open for passenger service in 2020.
- Buffers between sidewalks and streets
- Adequate pedestrian-scale lighting along all sidewalks

In regard to existing streets and intersection design elements, Thornton performs well with the following elements:

- Providing adequate time at pedestrian walk signals for people who may walk more slowly than others
- Providing push-to-walk timers at intersections
- Installing and maintaining highly-visible pedestrian crosswalk markings on the streets
- Providing easily-readable roadway signage

Thornton’s standards for new public street and intersection design include elements that are designed to meet the needs of older adults.

Thornton also does well at providing and maintaining standards for infrastructure improvements made on commercial properties so that they meet the needs of older adults.

Thornton partners with the North Area Transportation Alliance (NATA) and Smart Commute Metro North in regard to transportation issues that are of regional interest.

Needs Improvement

Existing public sidewalks throughout the city should be examined for improvements needed in the following categories:

- Access to essential services for older adults
- Minimum sidewalk widths of five feet in the more established parts of the community
- Availability of on-demand transportation services for mobility-impaired people
- ADA compliant ramps at all intersections
- Visual and physical cues for pedestrians and drivers at all intersections
- Level landings where driveways intersect public sidewalks to retain a level path for pedestrians

- Minimal tripping hazards from uneven surfaces or protruding objects
- Wayfinding and directional signage for pedestrians and cyclists
- Buffers between sidewalks and streets
- Adequate pedestrian-scale lighting along all sidewalks

Thornton should consider engaging older adults and others who have mobility challenges in assessing the design and condition of sidewalks and other publically-accessible pedestrian walkways throughout the city.

Thornton should focus on finding ways to address long crosswalk distances at intersections.

Housing

Thornton’s housing inventory ranges from structures built in the early part of the 20th century to modern residential areas that are currently under construction. The number of homes in Thornton has increased dramatically in the past two decades from fewer than 30,000 units in 2000 to approximately 50,000 units in 2019. Approximately 72% of the city’s residential units are single-family homes. Thornton’s home ownership rate is approximately 70%, with the remaining rented by their occupants.

This past April, the city adopted the 2019 City of Thornton Housing Needs Assessment and Analysis of Impediments to Fair Housing Choice (2019 Housing Plan). This document provides a set of recommendations to address the housing needs in Thornton as well as goals to resolve impediments to fair housing.

The most common housing problem identified in the 2019 Housing Plan is cost burden, with nearly one-third of all Thornton households identified as being cost burdened (housing costs greater than 30% of household income). Renters were even more cost burdened, with more than half either cost burdened or severely cost burdened (housing costs greater than 50% of household income). This concern was kept in mind as the housing component of the Boomer Bond assessment was compiled.

The Boomer Bond assessment process confirmed many of the findings of the 2019 Housing Plan and offers a series of items that may serve to help improve the condition of housing throughout the community, particularly to help meet the needs of an aging population.

Generally Good

- A variety of types of housing are available in Thornton
- Thornton allows for a variety of housing types to be built in the future
- Thornton plans for mixed used developments
- Thornton offers a variety of critical services to help senior residents identify potential safety concerns in their homes and correct them.
- Thornton has a strong partnership with Unison Housing Partners, the local housing authority, and Community-Based Housing Development Corporations to add new affordable and mixed-use housing.

- Thornton residents have access to a directory of agencies and qualified individuals that specialize in affordable and reliable home repairs for older residents.
- Thornton collaborates with independent senior living providers.
- Thornton completed the Original Thornton Pattern Book which provides templates for the way that many of Thornton’s original homes may be modified to accommodate the needs of older adults while respecting the architectural heritage of the area.

Needs Improvement

- Universal design standards should be applied to all new home construction and significant remodeling projects/ additions.
- Visitability standards should be applied to all new home construction and significant remodeling projects/ additions.
- Exterior lighting of public areas within aging neighborhoods could be improved.
- Thornton allows, but has only a few Accessory Dwelling Units (ADUs) available. More should be done to support and encourage the development and construction of ADUs to provide affordable housing options near family for older adults.
- Thornton could do more to encourage and support builders to construct new homes that are accessible to seniors or others with mobility impairments. Similar support should be given to those remodeling homes to increase accessibility of existing homes.

- More could be done in Thornton to make certified aging-in-place specialists and certified senior advisors available to aging adults and to families working to support their aging family members.
- Thornton could consider building and enhancing relationships that foster the development of additional independent and supported living options throughout the community.
- Thornton should encourage the development of senior housing in close proximity to grocery stores, transportation, and medical services.

Community Living

The self-assessment process revealed that Thornton is rather good at providing aging residents a good environment in which to live, but also indicated that there are a variety of things that we can and should work on in the future to improve.

Overall, Thornton is strong in providing activities and opportunities for seniors to stay active in ways that are interesting to them and within the limits of their abilities. These include entertainment, social engagement, outdoor recreation, and employment options.

The Thornton community provides opportunities for aging adults to participate in civic processes and do a respectable job of identifying and responding appropriately to potentially abusive situations. Thornton does an excellent job of partnering with other agencies that provide a range of additional services to our aging population.

Thornton also has a variety of areas where advances can be made to help improve the lives of seniors in our community. Several of them fall into the category of providing services that help make reasonable accommodation for the conditions that many aging folks face over time.

These include measures to help them be able to participate more easily in meetings and other public events, and making modifications to our physical environment to enable aging residents to more fully experience the benefits and opportunities that our community offers them for as long as possible.

Some of the improvements are focused on safety issues, and a couple of them (call boxes and snowbird employments opportunities) may not be particularly relevant in our community.

Generally Good

- Provide senior-friendly access to public amenities and facilities
- Provide publically-accessible features and amenities throughout our community
- The engagement of older adults in community activities
- Enabling older adults to participate in civic events
- Provide opportunities for older adults to volunteer
- Have a local-government staff member who fosters adult engagement
- Offer services to help older adults to remain in the workforce as long as they wish
- Provide help for seniors who wish to re-enter the workforce
- Make educational, recreational, and technical services available to elders
- Have services that identify and address neglected properties
- Address the safety needs of aging adults
- Have city staff that are trained to identify and report elder abuse
- Have senior liaisons within the Thornton Police Department
- Offer safety trainings to help maintain quality of life and personal safety
- Maintain collaboration between law enforcement and social service agencies
- New division in the city “Community Connections”, which is a one stop resource center.

Needs Improvement

- Improve way-finding maps and signage
- Provide enhanced listening devices at public meetings
- Give adequate notice that participants in public meetings may request special accommodations
- Use microphones routinely in public meetings, even in smaller formats
- Provide transportation services for seniors to attend meetings
- Hire former employees as contractors
- Encourage elder-friendly business practices throughout the community
- Address overgrown vegetation which may pose problems for seniors
- Assign a staff person to communicate with isolated seniors in emergency situations
- Assist senior living facilities in developing evacuation plans for their residents
- Provide elder preparedness planning services
- Design and construct intergenerational gathering spaces in the community

Support Services

Supportive services available to aging adults living in Thornton are abundant and robust, but not without room for improvements. Thornton enjoys many strong relationships with other organizations which provide a variety of important senior-oriented services to our population, and we are good at maintaining those relationships for the benefit of our residents.

Thornton also provides many important services directly to seniors in the area. Several private corporations or non-profit agencies offer residential facilities and day-services to seniors.

Improvements in support services which we should consider include attracting additional senior living facilities into our community to help meet the anticipated future demand of the services they provide to our population in the years ahead, and improving the ways in which aging residents can gain access to services and provide services to each other, as they are able.

Generally Good

- Strong relationships with other service-providing organizations
- Availability of adult day services and dementia/Alzheimer's care
- Programs that help prevent senior social isolation
- Programs that provide meals to aging residents
- Providing low or no-cost improvements to the homes of senior residents
- Providing public health services
- Providing support services for caregivers
- Providing safety net services
- Utilizing DRCOG's Network of Care Resources
- Connecting caregivers to services

Needs Improvement

- The clustering of a variety of service types in accessible locations
- Systems which facilitate neighbors helping one another
- Providing assisted living and skilled nursing facilities
- In some instances, Thornton could improve its relationships with partner organizations

Key Findings and Recommendations

In general, Thornton was found to be a very age friendly community. The city and the community provide a wide variety of programs and services for older adults such as caregiver support, caring safety personnel, excellent health care services, a variety of housing options, and new city facilities dedicated to older adults. There is also good access to healthy food, safe streets, and plentiful parks and trails. These all contribute to the wellbeing of our older adults.

City Councils, past and present, have supported critical services for Thornton's aging population. These include meals, transportation, recreational programs, and health screenings. Thornton maintains a high level of commitment to expanding programs and facilities to meet the needs of an expanding senior population.

While Thornton does good job caring for its aging population, improvements can be made. Many recommendations were identified over the course of the team's discussions that could fill in gaps and improve the overall delivery of services. These suggestions and recommendations can strengthen our community and will be detailed in the following pages.

Key Findings and Recommendations

- Improvements should be made in neighborhoods through quality lighting, safe streets, and greater consideration of the principals of universal design.
- There is a growing population of older adults who are living longer. Trends indicate there will be a corresponding increase in service demands.
- Thornton should continue to work closely between divisions and departments to address the unique needs of this population.
- Thornton should continue to convene community partners, facilitate discussions, and develop strong mutual partnerships to address the needs of older adults needs.
- Work with Thornton Active Adult Board to update the master plan and complete identified goals.
- Conduct a needs assessment every five years.
- Better promote programs already offered for older adults and highlight the successes Thornton's departments and divisions. Examples include the Fall Prevention Program offered by the Fire Department Educator and the Senior Liaison Officer program offered by police department.

- Evaluate neighborhoods on walkability and access to important services.
- Work closely with Community Connections to support older adults with information, referrals, program access, and program support.
- Evaluate gaps in transportation services for seniors and the disabled.

BOOMER BOND ASSESSMENT TOOL

Foreword

About DRCOG

The Denver Regional Council of Governments (DRCOG) endures today as one of the nation's oldest councils of governments. Through DRCOG, the towns, cities and counties of the metropolitan region work together to make sure the area remains a great place to live, work, play and age. They are guided by Metro Vision, the region's long-range plan for growth and development. DRCOG serves as a planning organization, technical assistance provider and forum for addressing regional issues. It also functions as a regional planning commission per Colorado state statute, serves as the metropolitan planning organization for the region, and is the federally designated Area Agency on Aging.

Population Change

The Denver region's population is experiencing unprecedented change. Twenty years from now, one in four people in the region will be 60 or older. The longer-term change to the region's age structure is being shaped by nearer-term dynamic growth in the older-than-60 population. During the next 10 years the region will experience a more than 40 percent increase in the 60-plus population. By comparison, the increase in all other age categories (younger than 60) will be just more than 10 percent. The growth in the older adult population will bring increased demands for aging services at the local and regional level and affect nearly every aspect of community life.

Boomer Bond Assessment Tool

Over the past several years, with support from AARP Colorado, Tri-County Health Department and countless professional stakeholders and citizen partners, DRCOG has developed and refined the Boomer Bond Assessment Tool. The assessment tool is a comprehensive resource local governments can use to identify local successes and challenges in supporting healthy and successful aging in their communities.

DRCOG's Boomer Bond initiative helps local governments around the region create age-friendly physical and social environments, allowing older adults to remain in their homes and communities for as long as they desire. In addition to this assessment tool, visit the Boomer Bond Resource Directory (<https://drcog.org/resource-directory>) to learn more about best practices in creating age-friendly communities. Whether used together or separately, these tools help communities assess current circumstances and existing resources; understand community strengths and deficiencies; identify short- and long-term priorities; and confidently implement strategies that contribute to healthy successful aging.

Introduction

The purpose of the Boomer Bond Assessment Tool is to help local governments and partnering organizations evaluate how well the existing resources, plans, regulations, programs and community design features serve older adult residents. The Assessment Tool can best be thought of as a “conversation starter.” After completing the assessment, local government staff and policy makers will have a comprehensive profile to guide decisions related to programs, policy and capital investments related to building a community that supports healthy aging. The Assessment Tool should not be not considered a final deliverable. For many local governments, the Assessment Tool might be a good step in a longer process like an update to a comprehensive plan, a rewrite of municipal code or as a part of strategic planning.

This tool is divided into sections that focus on key aspects of livable communities for people of all ages – Mobility and Access, Housing, Community Living and Support Services. AARP provides an easy-to-understand definition of a livable community, “one that is just as comfortable for an 80-year-old as an 8-year-old.” The assessment questions in this tool are intended to focus on the specific needs of older adults and healthy aging communities. However, you will recognize that many of these healthy aging components also serve the needs of the entire community.

How is the Assessment Tool designed?

The Assessment Tool is designed to gain input from a diverse group of local government staff and officials and, in some cases, organizational partners. The assessment is grouped by four topic areas – Mobility and Access, Housing, Community Living and Support Services. The assessment questions cover a broad range of topics so it will be difficult for one person to have all the answers. The intent is for a designated group of individuals to complete the assessment together so that collectively their responses help provide a comprehensive view of how well a community is addressing and providing for the needs of older adults. After completing the assessment questions, discussion questions are included for each section to encourage and assist with facilitation of a conversation among assessment participants.

Description of the Assessment Sections

There are five sections in the Assessment Tool. Below is a brief description of the five sections, including the topics covered in each section’s assessment questions.

- General information about the community The General Section is designed to be taken as a group. The questions in this section help to set the stage and prepare for conducting the assessment. This section will assist with the following: defining terminology and establishing shared understanding for the assessment process; assessing the current level of collaboration; gauging the status of policies, regulations and programs; and outlining how your group will administer the Assessment Tool.
- Mobility and Access Key areas of inquiry: Design of public sidewalks, streets, and intersections; available transportation options; and driver safety
- Housing Key areas of inquiry: Availability of a variety of affordable housing options for older adults; visitability and universal design provisions; and programs and processes that support the development of housing options.
- Community Living Key areas of inquiry: Accessible gathering spaces and parks; older adult engagement in civic and volunteer opportunities, helping older adults enter or remain in the workforce; community amenities; law enforcement/public safety; and emergency preparedness for older adults.
- Support Services Key areas of inquiry: Programs to maintain quality of life; independent living or safety; preventive health care services; and home maintenance assistance.

Role of the Discussion Questions

At the end of each section of the Assessment Tool, you will find discussion questions. The discussion questions are intended to facilitate a conversation once your group has had the opportunity to complete the assessment questions in that section. The discussion questions are a foundation for the conversation that will follow the assessment and your group may come up with additional discussion questions that address the unique aspects of your community.

Companion Toolkit

In addition to this Assessment Tool, a toolkit of best practices has been developed to help communities support healthy aging. The Boomer Bond Toolkit is a companion guide to the assessment tool and can assist communities in developing and improving programs, policies and community designs that help build a health aging community and encourage participation of older adults in a community's daily activities.

Who should be involved in completing the Assessment Tool?

Ideally, a diverse group of department representatives within a local government should take the Assessment Tool. Below is a list of departments to include in the process. Local social service agencies and organizations who partner with local governments to deliver programs/services may also be valuable participants in the assessment process.

- Building
- Code Enforcement
- Economic Development
- Human Resources
- Human Services
- Law Enforcement / Public Safety
- Parks and Recreation
- Planning / Community Development
- Public Works

How should a community complete the assessment Tool?

The following instructions provide guidance for convening a group of local government representatives to complete the Assessment Tool. The steps describe the recommended method for administering the Assessment Tool and include ideas for alternatives if your community is unable to complete the tool as described. It is important for your community to customize the process to your community's circumstances and experience.

1. Develop a plan for completing the Assessment Tool. A little preparation will help develop a more effective strategy for completing the Assessment Tool and moving toward identifying potential action steps for building a healthy aging community. The following guidelines provide a framework for how you might develop a plan for completing the assessment.
 - a. Identify a team of local government department representatives and, potentially, community organization representatives who will participate in completing the Assessment Tool and the follow-up discussions. The previous section of the Introduction provides an idea of what local government departments should be included.
 - b. Designate a facilitator who will convene the team, coordinate meeting logistics such as finding a space to meet and providing meeting supplies, and facilitate the process of completing the Assessment Tool. The role of facilitation could be shared among a few of the participants. It is important to clarify the role so that the expectations are clear for participants.
 - c. Establish a general timeframe for completing the Assessment Tool. The Assessment Tool is designed to allow flexibility in its administration. Ideally, there should be a limited amount of time from when team members complete the assessment questions to the conversation about their responses so that participants can recall the nature of the assessment questions. The process for completing the Assessment Tool is probably best accomplished through a series of meetings of approximately one to two hours. However, a longer session could also work.

2. Complete the “General information about the community” section as a group. Convene the team of representatives from local government and other organizations (as applicable) and complete the section about “General information about the community” together. It is very important that the team complete this section together in order to establish some common understandings of terms such as how you will define your “community”, to share knowledge of existing resources and to agree on the process for administering the Assessment Tool before completing other sections of the Assessment Tool.

3. Select and complete one of the four topic-specific sections of the Assessment Tool. The four main sections of the Assessment Tool (Mobility and Access, Housing, Community Living and Support Services) have the same general structure. Each of the sections has two parts – assessment questions and discussion questions. The assessment questions are about existing conditions, policies and programs in the community. The discussion questions are designed to assist the group with starting a conversation about the responses to the assessment questions and to identify new strategies for moving forward. The following steps describe how to complete the four topic-specific sections of the Assessment Tool.

- a. Team members read and record responses to the assessment questions. Once the group has completed the “General information about the community” together, participants will read and answer the assessment questions in the next section of the assessment tool. Each team member should review the assessment questions individually and record responses before reviewing answers to the assessment questions as a group. Team members may need to consult existing regulations and policies and current program information to adequately answer assessment questions.
- b. The team reviews the responses to the assessment questions. Once each team member has a chance to read and respond to the assessment questions in one section, the group can go over responses together. This process will benefit from good group facilitation to ensure that all team members have the opportunity to share their responses to the assessment questions while moving the process forward in a timely manner. An alternative to reviewing responses to the assessment questions as a group is to have the facilitator compile everyone’s responses and deliver the collection of responses to group members.
- c. The team discusses the outcomes of the assessment. The goal of the discussion is to identify gaps and barriers to building a healthy aging community and generate strategies for addressing the gaps and barriers. The discussion questions that follow the assessment questions in each section can be used to help encourage discussion among team members. The discussion questions should help communities to identify resources, brainstorm potential partners and prioritize policy, projects and programs in order to move forward with actions.

4. Repeat step 3 for the remaining topic-specific sections of the Assessment Tool.

What happens after communities complete the Assessment Tool?

The Assessment Tool is not a scorecard or grading process. The results of the Assessment Tool help describe where the community lies on a broad spectrum of moving toward a healthy aging community. By completing the Assessment Tool and having the recommended follow-up discussion, a community will be able to identify policies, projects or programs that the community would like to explore further.

The Boomer Bond Toolkit is a companion document to the Assessment Tool. The Toolkit will provide team members information about best practices, model programs and examples from communities around the country and in Colorado. The information in the Toolkit can be a starting point for enhancing existing and developing new policies, projects and programs.

General Information about the Community

This section is designed to be completed as a group. The purpose of this section is to create common definitions to use throughout the Assessment Tool, gather information about the current level of collaboration in your community, assess the status of policy, regulations and programs and define the process that the group will follow for completing the Assessment Tool.

Define the process for completing the Assessment Tool (questions 1-5)

The Introduction section of the Assessment Tool provides some guidance for how to administer the Assessment Tool. Each community and local government organization is unique so it is important to design a process for completing the Assessment Tool that works for your group. The following questions will help facilitate a discussion prior to starting the Assessment Tool to define your process for completing the Assessment Tool. After walking through these questions, it is important to agree upon the process so that all participants understand what is expected of his or her participation.

- 1. What is the proposed timeframe for completing the process?

- 2. Who will convene participants and facilitate the process?

- 3. How will participants answer the assessment questions? As a group? Individually, with a reconvening to follow to share results?

- 4. How often will the group meet to complete the Assessment Tool?

- 5. How will you report the results of the assessment process and follow-up discussion with others in your community?

At the bottom of each screen on the computer, there will be a section where people can add their own comments or information on local initiatives.

Common definitions or descriptions (questions 6-8)

As a group, please discuss the following terms for use during the assessment process and agree on definitions or descriptions that all participants will use while completing the Assessment Tool.

6. Define your COMMUNITY for the purpose of this tool. This is the definition that should be kept in mind throughout this assessment. Frequently, “community” will be a local government’s jurisdiction; however, you can define community using other geographic descriptors.

7. For planning purposes, how does your community define OLDER ADULT? This is the definition that should be kept in mind throughout this assessment. As the Area Agency on Aging (AAA), DRCOG defines older adult as anyone 60 years and over. For more information about the AAA, please visit their website at <http://www.drcog.org/index.cfm?page=agingservices>

8. Has your community identified areas where older adults LIVE, VISIT and WORK in your community? You will reference this information on some of the questions.
 - If YES , describe these areas below and/or indicate them on a map.
 - If NO, consult the toolkit for suggestions on how to identify areas where older adults live, visit and work.

At the bottom of each screen on the computer, there will be a section where people can add their own comments or information on local initiatives.

General information about the community

Current level of collaboration within local government departments and between local governments to help older adults “age-in-place” (questions 9-10)

Please complete the following questions about local government collaboration and discuss the results as a group. Participants can share their knowledge of current collaborations within the local government and between local governments. After completing the following two questions, the group will have a better understanding of your community’s current level of collaborations before completing the Assessment Tool.

Please note that there will be additional questions and opportunities to share knowledge about other collaborations later in the Assessment Tool.

At the bottom of each screen on the computer, there will be a section where people can add their own comments or information on local initiatives.

9. Are any of the departments within your organization or local government currently collaborating on the following topics for older adults? Please check ALL responses that apply; you may have multiple responses for each topic.

Type of Collaboration Between Departments or Divisions
Topics	Internal Discussion	Having regularly scheduled meetings	Creating common organization goals	Developing programs for community residents	Developing policy changes	Not currently collaborating
Mobility and Access (walkable neighborhoods, transportation options, driver safety for older adults)	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
Housing (available, affordable and visitable housing options for older adults)	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
Community Living (gathering spaces and parks, older adult engagement in civic and volunteer opportunities, helping older adults enter or remain in the workforce, community amenities, security, emergency preparedness for older adults)	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
Support Services (programs to maintain quality of life, independent living or safety; preventive health care services, home maintenance assistance for older adults)	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

At the bottom of each screen on the computer, there will be a section where people can add their own comments or information on local initiatives.

10. Is your local government currently collaborating with other local government(s) on the following topics for older adults?
Please check ALL responses that apply; you may have multiple responses for each topic.

Type of Collaboration Between Local Governments
Topics	Having regularly scheduled meetings	Joint Ventures	Developing policy changes	Collaborating on funding opportunities	Not currently collaborating	Other type of collaboration (describe in notes)
Mobility and Access (walkable neighborhoods, transportation options, driver safety for older adults)	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

Support Services (programs to maintain quality of life, independent living or safety; preventive health care services, home maintenance assistance for older adults)	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

At the bottom of each screen on the computer, there will be a section where people can add their own comments or information on local initiatives.

Status on comprehensive plan, codes and programs related to addressing the needs of older adults (questions 11-12)

The following two questions will provide your group with some common knowledge about updates to the comprehensive plan, codes and programs. The information will help participants as they complete the Assessment Tool and engage in the discussion about strategies to move forward at the end of the assessment process.

11. When was the last time your community reviewed your Comprehensive Plan, codes/ordinances, and programs to assess their effectiveness in meeting the needs of older adults?

	Less than 1 year ago	1-5 years ago	6-10 years ago	More than 10 years ago
Building code	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
Zoning ordinance	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
Comprehensive plan	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
Programs	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

12. Does your community have policies in your comprehensive plan to support a healthy, active, aging population?

YES	NO	DON'T KNOW
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

At the bottom of each screen on the computer, there will be a section where people can add their own comments or information on local initiatives.

MOBILITY AND ACCESS

This page left intentionally blank.

Mobility and Access

Addressing mobility and access is an essential component to building a healthy community for all ages. Older adults experience unique mobility challenges that can profoundly affect their ability to actively engage in the community.

This set of questions is designed to stimulate thinking about mobility options and access issues in your community. The questions will cover sidewalk systems, streets and intersections, transportation, development patterns and driver safety.

At the end of this section, you will find discussion questions to encourage and facilitate discussion across various local government departments and sectors of your community. Based on the responses to the questions and the discussion that will follow, your community has the opportunity to take new strides to address mobility options and access issues in your neighborhoods.

Public Sidewalk System (questions 13-16)

13. How well do the existing public sidewalks along streets in the areas where older adults live and visit (as identified in Question 3 in the previous section) incorporate the following elements?

EXISTING Public Sidewalk Elements	A LOT of improvement needed	MODERATE improvement needed	A LITTLE improvement needed	Fully accommodated
Continuous sidewalk system providing access to essential services for older adults	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
Minimum sidewalk width of five feet	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
ADA ramps at intersections	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
Visual and physical cues for pedestrians and drivers at intersections	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
Level landings where driveways intersect public sidewalks to retain a level path for pedestrians	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
Minimal tripping hazards from uneven surface or protruding objects	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
Signage to direct pedestrians	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
Buffer between sidewalk and street (e.g. planting strips, on-street parking, bike lanes)	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
Adequate pedestrian-scale lighting along sidewalks	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

At the bottom of each screen on the computer, there will be a section where people can add their own comments or information on local initiatives.

14. Do the community’s standards for new public sidewalks include design requirements that meet the needs of older adults?
See example design elements below.

NEW Public Sidewalk Elements	Required	Encouraged	Being considered	Not Addressed	Don’t Know	Not applicable (not allowed in community)
Minimum sidewalk width of five feet	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
ADA ramps at intersections	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
Visual and physical cues for pedestrians and drivers at intersections	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
Level landings where driveways intersect public sidewalks to retain a level path for pedestrians	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
Signage to direct pedestrians	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
Buffer between sidewalk and street (e.g. planting strips, on-street parking, bike lanes)	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
Adequate pedestrian-scale lighting along sidewalks	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

At the bottom of each screen on the computer, there will be a section where people can add their own comments or information on local initiatives.

15. Does your community’s code address maintenance provisions for public sidewalks and, if yes, are these codes enforced?

	ADDRESSED IN CODE?			ENFORCED?
	YES	NO	DON'T KNOW	Proactively enforced	YES Complaint-based enforcement	NO	DON'T KNOW
MAINTENANCE PROVISIONS for Public Sidewalks
Structural problems resulting in cracking, uneven surfaces, protrusion of tree roots.	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

Pedestrian clear zone (no physical obtrusions)	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

16. Does your community engage older adults in assessing walkability opportunities and challenges in their neighborhoods?

YES	NO	DON'T KNOW
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

At the bottom of each screen on the computer, there will be a section where people can add their own comments or information on local initiatives.

Public Streets and Intersections (questions 17- 19)

17. How well do the existing streets and intersections in your community include design features making streets easier and safer to cross for older adults?

EXISTING Street and Intersection Design Elements	A LOT of improvement needed	MODERATE improvement needed	A LITTLE improvement needed	Fully accommodated
Adequate time at pedestrian walk signals for pedestrians who may walk more slowly	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
Countdown timers at intersections	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
Push-to-walk buttons	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
Highly visible and well-marked pedestrian crossings	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
Design solutions to address long crosswalk distances (e.g. bump-outs or curb extensions at intersections, pedestrian refuge islands to shorten crossing distances)	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
Easy to read roadway signage	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

At the bottom of each screen on the computer, there will be a section where people can add their own comments or information on local initiatives.

18. Do the community’s standards for new street and intersection design include design requirements that meet the needs of older adults?

NEW Street and Intersection Design Requirements	Required	Encouraged	Being considered	Not Addressed	Don't Know	Not applicable (not allowed in community)
Adequate time at pedestrian walk signals for pedestrians who may walk more slowly	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

Discussion Questions

The following questions are to help facilitate a discussion about what you learned from completing the assessment questions for this section. The discussion questions are intended to be used as a guide to help encourage a conversation about how your group might pursue working to build a healthy aging community. The discussion questions should help communities identify resources, brainstorm potential partners and prioritize policy, projects and programs in order to move forward with actions. Use the questions as you see appropriate to stimulate discussion.

D1. Based on your answers to the questions related to the public sidewalk system and public streets and intersections (Questions 13-19), please answer the following questions.

- a. What are the gaps and barriers that you noticed in meeting the needs of older adult pedestrians?
- b. What opportunities and resources exist to address these gaps and barriers?
- c. What groups and local government partners should be involved in developing strategies and solutions to address these gaps and barriers?
- d. What departments within your local government are currently collaborating on this issue? Are there opportunities to develop new collaborations?
- e. What research or information gathering is needed prior to developing strategies and solutions?
- f. What are some strategies and solutions for addressing this issue in your community? Which of these strategies and solutions may be easier to address than others?
- g. What timeframes are realistic for implementing the strategies and solutions that you have identified?

- h. Are there longer-term strategies that may benefit from foundational steps in the short-term?
- i. What are some immediate next steps for pursuing the strategies and solutions?

D2. What strategies does your community employ to retrofit streets in neighborhoods and commercial areas where current design standards are not being met?

- a. Does your community employ different strategies for arterials, collectors and local streets? If yes, what are some of the distinctions in the different strategies?

D3. What programs does your community have to assist private property owners in retrofitting existing development to meet new design standards?

D4. Describe areas in your community that are difficult to walk through due to frequent conflicts between pedestrians and wheeled sports (cyclists, skateboarders, and roller bladers)?

D5. Is your community considering adopting the new policies for street and intersection design like the revised Manual on Universal Traffic Control Devices (MUTCD) or a Complete Streets Policy? If yes, what is the timeline for this adoption process? If no, what are some of the barriers to adopting these types of policies?

D6. If your community has conducted a transportation inventory, what have you learned about the gaps and barriers in transportation services for older adults? If your community has not conducted a transportation inventory, what did you learn about the gaps and barriers in transportation for older adults (transportation services, senior driving) from taking this assessment?

- a. What opportunities and resources exist to address these gaps and barriers?
- b. What groups and local government partners should be involved in developing strategies and solutions to address these gaps and barriers?

- c. What departments within your local government are currently collaborating on this issue? Are there opportunities to develop new collaborations?
- d. What are some strategies and solutions for addressing this issue in your community? Which of these strategies and solutions may be easier to address than others?
- e. What timeframes are realistic for implementing the strategies and solutions that you have identified?
- f. If your community does not currently provide funding for older adult transportation, is it something you may consider in the future?
- g. What are some immediate next steps for pursuing the strategies and solutions?

D7. After completing the assessment, what are some of your impressions and thoughts that have not been discussed?

Housing

To facilitate aging-in-place, it's important to have a range of housing types at different price points so that when the need arises, older adults can move to a more appropriate home nearby without having to leave behind their neighbors, doctors, or house of worship (AARP, Public Policy Institute, Insight on the Issues, 28, March 2010).

This set of questions is designed to stimulate thinking about housing options in your community. The questions will cover housing availability and affordability, the development process, incentives and programs for housing development, and visitability and universal design.

The section also includes discussion questions to facilitate a discussion about how your community will move forward with addressing housing needs for older adults.

Currently Available Housing Options and Affordability (question 28)

28. For each Independent and Supported living housing option below, please indicate whether it is allowed, available (if allowed), and affordable (allowed and available).

Discussion Questions

The following questions are to help facilitate a discussion about what you learned from completing the assessment questions for this section. The discussion questions are intended to be used as a guide to help encourage a conversation about how your group might pursue working to build a healthy aging community. The discussion questions should help communities identify resources, brainstorm potential partners and prioritize policy, projects and programs in order to move forward with actions. Use the questions as you see appropriate to stimulate discussion.

- D8. Has your community conducted a housing needs assessment focused on older adults in your community? If yes, what were the findings (i.e. scope, results and timeframe) of the assessment?
- D9. Based on your answers to the question related to housing options for older adults (Question 28), what are the gaps and barriers that you noticed in meeting the housing needs of older adults in your community?
- a. What opportunities and resources exist to address these gaps and barriers?
 - b. What groups and local government partners should be involved in developing strategies and solutions to address these gaps and barriers?
 - c. What departments within your local government are currently collaborating to address the housing needs of older adults? Are there opportunities to develop new collaborations?
 - d. What research or information gathering is needed prior to developing strategies and solutions?
 - e. What are some of the strategies and solutions for addressing this issue in your community? Which of these strategies and solutions may be easier to address than others?

Housing

- f. What timeframes are realistic for implementing the strategies and solutions that you have identified?
- g. If your community does not currently provide funding for older adult housing, is it something you may consider in the future?
- h. What are some immediate next steps for pursuing the strategies and solutions?

D10. Based on your answers to the question related to the current process for developing housing for older adults in your community (Question 29), what were your impressions about the development process?

- a. What barriers exist when developing housing options for older adults in your community?
- b. What opportunities and resources exist to address these barriers?
- c. What groups and local government partners should be involved in developing strategies and solutions to address these barriers?
- d. What departments within your local government are currently collaborating on this issue? Are there opportunities to develop new collaborations?

Community Living

Individuals who engage in the civic and social life of their communities are happier and healthier (AARP, beyond 50.05, page 74). Older adults who regularly engage in community activities experience better physical and mental health benefits. Communities can promote engagement by providing a variety of opportunities for social interactions in a safe and secure environment (Livable Communities: An Evaluation Guide, AARP, 2005).

Results from the 2010 Community Assessment Survey for Older Adults (CASOA™) conducted by the National Research Center, for the Denver Regional Council of Governments (DRCOG), showed that older adults want to be engaged in the community, but some reported at least a minor problem with finding productive, volunteer or other meaningful activities to do, or with feeling like their voice was heard in the community.

This section covers a number of topics related to providing a variety of opportunities for social interactions in a safe and secure environment including • community engagement strategies • design of community spaces • volunteering opportunities • workforce and business • recreation • education • and safety and security.

As in in the previous sections, discussion questions are included to encourage and facilitate discussion among a diverse group of assessment participants. The assessment and discussion should lead your group to some action steps to continue to improve the quality of life of older adults in your community.

Support Services

A livable community is a caring community. Organizations and individuals offering care and support services include nonprofit agencies, faith-based groups, and service professionals. The range of service opportunities is similarly broad, from an act of kindness to one individual to an effort to right a wrong dealt to the older adult population (AARP Public Policy Institute, Livable Communities: An Evaluation Guide, 2005).

The questions that follow in this section fall within three areas: level of collaboration, access to services and available services. The types of services covered include formal care, preventive health care, assistance with property maintenance and safety net services.

The discussion questions at the end of the section are intended to encourage discussion within local government and, in this section in particular, with other community organizations since many local governments are not directly involved in social service delivery. The intent is to stimulate a conversation about how to provide and deliver a broad spectrum of services for older adults and move toward implementation.

Discussion Questions

The following questions are to help facilitate a discussion about what you learned from completing the assessment questions for this section. The discussion questions are intended to be used as a guide to help encourage a conversation about how your group might pursue working to build a healthy aging community. The discussion questions should help communities identify resources, brainstorm potential partners and prioritize policy, projects and programs in order to move forward with actions. Use the questions as you see appropriate to stimulate discussion.

D23. Has your community conducted a support services needs assessment focused on older adults in your community? If yes, what were the findings (i.e. scope, results and timeframe) of the assessment?

D24. Based on your answers to the questions related to support services for older adults and their caregivers, please answer the following questions.

- a. What are the gaps and barriers that you noticed in meeting the needs of older adults in your community? What services are missing? Are the services that are offered adequate in terms of programming and the number of people served?
- b. What opportunities and resources exist to address these gaps and barriers?
- c. What groups and local government partners should be involved in developing strategies and solutions to address these gaps and barriers?
- d. What departments within your local government are currently collaborating to address this topic? Are there opportunities to develop new collaborations?
- e. What research or information gathering is needed prior to developing strategies and solutions?

- f. What are some strategies and solutions for addressing this issue in your community? Which of these strategies and solutions may be easier to address than others?

- g. Are there longer-term strategies that may benefit from foundational steps in the short-term?

- h. What timeframes are realistic for addressing these gaps and barriers?

- i. What are some of the potential next steps for addressing these gaps and barriers?

D25. After completing the assessment, what are some of your impressions and thoughts that have not been discussed?

Glossary of Terms

Accessible multi-family homes – housing with more than two dwelling units in the same structure where a portion of the dwelling units can be directly accessed by people with physical disability or mobility issues.

Accessory dwelling units – (a.k.a. mother-in-law apartment) a secondary dwelling unit within the same building as a single-family home, attached to a single-family home, or in a detached building on the same lot as a single-family home.

Active adult communities – real estate developments designed to promote an active lifestyle by including recreational and social considerations in the physical design and programming. The developments do not typically provide assistance with daily living activities (e.g. meals, medication and personal care). Active adult communities are typically age-targeted or age-restricted (see definitions below).

ADA ramps – ramps that meet the requirements of the Americans with Disabilities Act and associated design requirements.

Adult day services – community-based group programs of comprehensive and structured care in a protective setting that serve individuals with functional and/or cognitive impairments during day-time hours. Adult day services can serve a general population of those needing day-time support (general) or can serve specialized needs such as Alzheimer's or Dementia patients.

Age-in-place – the ability of an older adult to continue to live in his or her home safely and comfortably.

Age-restricted housing – housing developments that impose requirements about the age of the primary resident, typically 55 years or older. Age-restricted housing typically restricts residents under 19 years of age.

Age-targeted housing – housing developments that market to people 55 years or older.

Assisted living facilities – housing facilities that assist residents with daily living activities (e.g. meals, medication and personal care), coordination of care by healthcare providers outside of the facility and monitoring of resident's activities to ensure their health and safety. Assisted living facilities do not offer extensive medical care.

Bump-outs – a street design technique that extends the curb line at street intersections shortening the distance between curbs in order to reduce the length of a crosswalk.

Certified Aging-in-Place Specialist (CAPS) – home remodeling professionals that have been trained to help retirees and older adults age-in-place and to remain in their homes safely, independently, and comfortably, throughout the years. The National Home Builders Association administers this designation program.

Certified Environmental Access Consultant (CEAC) – a provider or contractor who is aware of the various home access solutions (e.g. home modifications and equipment) and services available to the patients they serve, their patients' particular home access needs, and everything entailed in providing those services. Accessible Home Improvement of America offers the credentialing program for Certified Environmental Access Consultant (CEAC).

Certified Senior Advisor (CSA) – a professional who has knowledge about aging and the important health, financial and social issues that affect the majority of older adults. Typically, CSAs already have expertise in a professional discipline – home care, senior housing, law, real estate, health care, clergy, insurance services and financial planning – and have chosen to supplement that existing professional knowledge with the CSA education.

Cohousing communities – residential developments that are planned, owned and managed by the residents with the goal of developing an intentional community that shares common areas and facilities and manages them collectively.

Continuing care retirement communities – a residential community with at least three levels of housing – independent living, assisted living and skilled nursing home – in the same development in order to meet the changing needs of an aging population.

Curb extensions – a traffic calming technique that extends the curb line into the vehicular travel area of a street to shorten the crossing distance for pedestrians and reduce the amount of time that pedestrians are in the street.

Elder-friendly – a description often associated with businesses or communities that actively cater to the needs of older adults to encourage older adult participation in commerce and livelihood of a community.

Environmental safety – the relative public safety from environmental dangers caused by natural or human processes due to ignorance, accident, mismanagement or design.

Fixed-route – a description used with transit service to indicate a service that runs on an established path with a predetermined schedule.

Group homes – a residential home in a neighborhood where a group of residents, typically eight or fewer, live together sharing common space, facilities and supportive care to assist with activities of daily living.

Home care – services that external agencies provide within recipients' homes.

Independent living – a housing option that maximizes independence. Independent living is seen as the first step in a continuum of care housing model. Independent living facilities are aimed at older adults who need little or no assistance with activities of daily living.

Inventory – a study of the existing services or products that categorizes them by various common characteristics.

Local coordinating council – a group of community stakeholders that provide guidance and coordination to improve community transportation services.

Long-term care – a term that encompasses a variety of services including medical and non-medical care to people who have a chronic illness or disability. Long-term care helps meet health or personal needs.

Mobility management organization – an organization that focuses on customer-driven transportation services through developing community partnerships to provide information, coordinate transportation options and transportation planning.

Multi-generational housing – residential option that incorporates living space for multiple generations to live in the same home while incorporating some physical design solutions that provide privacy and comfort for all residents.

Needs assessment – a study of the gaps between existing conditions and desired outcomes.

Network of care – a highly interactive, single information Internet network offered through Denver Regional Council of Governments that consumers, community-based organizations, and local and state governments can use to access a wide variety of important information relating to available services for older adults, their families and caregivers.

NORC (naturally occurring retirement community) – a community that was not originally designed for older adults but that has a large proportion of residents who are older adults (at least 60 years old). These communities are not created to meet the needs of older adults living in their homes, but rather evolve naturally, as adult residents age in place.

Nursing home – a residential facility that provides continual skilled nursing care beyond assistance with activities for daily living.

Paratransit – a flexible transportation service that does not follow a fixed-route or defined schedule. Most transit agencies opt for a flexible system of small paratransit vehicles operating parallel to a system of larger, fixed-route buses to accommodate passengers with disabilities.

Pedestrian refuge islands – a small section of raised pavement or sidewalk placed on a street at intersections or midblock locations to separate crossing pedestrians from motor vehicles. Pedestrian refuge islands are often placed midway in a crosswalk to provide pedestrians a safe place to rest at intersections with long crosswalk distances.

Personal care boarding home – residential home that provides lodging, meal services and assistance with daily living activities.

Physical safety – related to protection of the human body from intentional or accidental risk or harm.

Relational safety – related to protection from harm caused by someone in close relationship such as spouse, family, friend, or caregiver.

Respite care – the provision of temporary relief to those who are caring for someone who might otherwise require permanent placement in a facility outside the home. Care may be provided in the home or in specialized facilities. Respite care can be short-term (e.g. to provide care while a caregiver is on a vacation) or long-term (e.g. 2 times per week for 4 months).

Support services – home and community-based services that enable older adults to remain in their homes for as long as possible. These services include but are not limited to: access services such as transportation, case management, and information and assistance; in-home services such as personal care, chore, and homemaker assistance; and community services such as legal services, mental health services, and adult day care.

Supported living – a housing option for older adults who need daily help with one or more personal care activities such as bathing, dressing, or eating, but do not need full-time nursing care. It offers a level of care in between independent living and skilled nursing care.

Taxi voucher program – a system for passengers with limited access to transportation services to receive discounted or free transportation service through taxis.

Universal design – a spectrum of ideas to promote the design of buildings, environments and products that are usable by people of all abilities.

Victim advocacy/Victim witness unit – a unit within a law enforcement agency such as a police department that provides immediate intervention, support, information, referrals and other assistance to victims of crime, witnesses and/or their families including incidents of non-criminal, stark misfortune.

Village model – membership-based, grass-roots organizations that coordinate access to affordable services including transportation, health and wellness programs, home repairs, social and educational activities, and other day-to-day needs enabling individuals to remain connected to their community throughout the aging process.

Visitability – a movement in home construction practice to require a few specific design features to make the home easy for anyone with a mobility impairment to visit or live in. A house is visitable when it meets three basic requirements: one zero-step entrance, doors with 32 inches of clear passage space, and one bathroom on the main floor you can get into in a wheelchair.

Volunteer driver program – a system for connecting drivers with people who are in need of transportation services. Volunteer driver programs can be organized to use volunteer's personal vehicles or other vehicles.

Wayfinding signage – the consistent use of signs, maps, graphic or audible methods to convey locations or directions through an area.

senior TRANSPORTATION OPTIONS

BRIEF HISTORY OF ADAMS COUNTY SENIOR TRANSPORTATION

After two non-profit senior citizen transportation providers failed due to financial difficulties in the late 1990s, the Adams County Board of County Commissioners spearheaded an effort with several cities in Adams County to establish a transit service for senior citizens and disabled persons.

The city of Thornton along with the cities of Arvada, Commerce City, Federal Heights, Northglenn, and Westminster, entered into Intergovernmental Agreements with Adams County in 2003 to establish a community transit program, now known as A-Lift. This program was established to meet the transportation needs in the county for those adults age 60 and over, and those individuals who are mobility impaired. A-Lift provides “door through door” service with a defined service boundary for medical, nutrition, grocery, personal and adult day services.

In 2018, 21,190 rides were provided in Adams County, with 9,870 rides to Thornton residents. Types of rides include rides to the senior center, medical appointments, adult day care, grocery and personal rides. Some riders utilized the service several days a week to various destinations. One of the highest uses were medical rides for dialysis which can occur several times a week for an individual.

The individual cities, county, state and federal Title III grants provided funding. The Adams County Transit Policy Council, composed of two County representatives, and one representative from each contributing city, manages the A-Lift program. The city of Thornton’s representative is Lisa Ranalli, Senior Citizen Program Manager. With approval from the Transit Policy Council, Adams County administers the A-Lift Program through a contract with a third-party provider, Seniors Resource Center (SRC). The SRC has been the provider since the inception of the program. They have been awarded this contract through a competitive bid process that is conducted once every three years, and has continued to meet program goals and contract obligations throughout this time. A-Lift rides are free to users due to the use of Title III federal funds. All other transportation providers such as RTD’s Access-a-Ride and FlexRide have program fees.

THORNTON ACTIVE ADULT CENTER TRANSPORTATION OPTIONS

The Active Adult Center currently has three vans that are used for their recreational trips and outdoor hiking program. In addition, the Center's front desk staff also takes reservations two days a week for A-Lift riders that need transportation to and from the Center for the lunch program. Because the Active Adult Center uses city-owned vans to transport people for the lunch program, it allows A-Lift to utilize the city as a sub-contractor. The Center is then reimbursed for each ride that is provided.

The Adams County Transit Policy A-Lift program is also available for other transportation destination options five days a week. You may call the Senior Resource Center to schedule your weekly trip. Qualifying destinations include medical/dental appointments, grocery facilities, congregate meal sites or personal trips within five miles of the riders residence.

A-Lift (a-lift.org)

A-LIFT is a transportation program available to Adams County residents who are aged 55 and over.

- To schedule, call the Senior Resource Center (SRC) at 303-255-6972 Monday-Friday, 8 a.m.-4 p.m. New riders must complete an intake form with a dispatcher. Rides are available Monday-Friday, 6 a.m. to 6 p.m. and can be scheduled up to seven days in advance. Call for information about extended transportation times.
- All rides are provided at no cost, however, donations are accepted to defray costs.

The Adams County Transit Policy Council (A-Lift) are always seeking new and improved ways to provide this service. In 2019, they will be taking a closer look at the ride-share services Lyft and Uber to see if expansion into this area is feasible for riders not requiring wheelchair accessibility.

ALTERNATE TRANSPORTATION OPTIONS

RTD FlexRide (rtd-denver.com/FlexRide.shtml)

Thornton's two RTD FlexRide services (formerly known as Call-N-Ride) cover from the southwest corner of the city to the area of 136th Avenue and Colorado Boulevard. FlexRide does provide Thornton residents service to the Denver Premium Outlets north of 136th Avenue and to the Adams County Human Services Center at 11860 Pecos St.

- The operating hours are Monday through Friday from 5:30 a.m.-7 p.m. with no service on holidays.
- You can transfer between FlexRide areas or to RTD fixed transit bus and rail service.
- Fares are $3 one-way for riders 65+; individuals with disabilities and Medicare recipients pay $1.50 for one-way; and youths ages 6 to 19 pay $0.90. In addition, children under 5 with a fare paying adult and U.S. military active duty members ride free. FlexRide also offers a subscription service to schedule recurring trips.

RTD Access-A-Ride (rtd-denver.com/accessARide.shtml)

Access-a-Ride offers door-to-door service. The ride must start and end within ¾ mile of RTD's Local fixed route transit service. Therefore, much of Thornton is not served by Access-A-Ride.

- Riders can book travel from one day to up to three days in advance, but they must be approved and have received an Access-A-Ride card before using this service.
- Use qualifications include the rider being unable to get to and from a bus stop or on and off a lift-equipped bus by themselves or have a cognitive disability that prohibits their understanding of how to complete bus trips. As part of the certification process, a functional evaluation must be completed in-person and a physician's statement must be submitted to verify the disability.
- One-way fares are $5 for local, $9 for regional and $20 to DIA.

A Note About Medicaid Transportation: Individuals who receive Medicaid as their primary medical insurance can contact Veyo* and provide their Medicaid state ID to find out if they are eligible for transportation benefits. If eligible, free transportation may be provided to Medicaid covered medical and behavioral health appointments.

Individuals who are enrolled in one of the following Medicaid Home and Community Based Services waiver program should contact their Single Entry Point or Community Center Board case manager to find out more about transportation services and providers: Supported Living Services waiver, Elderly Blind and Disabled waiver, Brain Injury Waiver, Spinal Cord Injury Waiver, and Community Mental Health Supports waiver. Visit www.colorado.gov and search for single entry point agencies or community center boards.

*Gilpin and Clear Creek residents are not served by Veyo and should contact their County Department of Human Services.

Veterans Transportation: Disabled American Veterans: 3720-723-6811. Provides transportation within a 12-mile radius of the VA Medical Center.

VET Ride: 720-857-5419, and the Transportation office: 720-857-5420, are other options for rides to the VA Medical Center and community based outpatient clinics.

RTD Customer Care line: 303-299-6000. There are several RTD routes that serve the VA Medical Center and the VA's community based clinics. Contact RTD to find out more.

Social workers at the VA Medical Center are often a great source of information about transportation and other VA benefits. Veterans Services Officers (VSOs) are also knowledgeable about resources for Veterans. VSOs can be contacted through your local county department of human services or by visiting vets.dmva.state.co.us.

The gift of freedom for young adults

DRMAC Rides is one of the first programs of its kind in the area to support young adults with intellectual and developmental disabilities and help find them free rides to keep them active and social.

If YOU are looking for a ride within Arapahoe County, we have a group of volunteers who are willing to help you get there. If you are a young adult with I/DD, call us for more information at (720) 292-3540!

DRMAC Rides is looking for volunteers to transport young adults with disabilities who cannot drive themselves, and we need you! We provide free training and support, along with flexible scheduling. If you want to make a difference for young adults in Arapahoe County, please contact the volunteer manager at (720) 292-3540 or visit drmac-co.org/volunteer.

DRMAC acknowledges the support of our community partners

POPULATION 65 YEARS AND OVER IN THE UNITED STATES

2013-2017 American Community Survey 5-Year Estimates

Supporting documentation on code lists, subject definitions, data accuracy, and statistical testing can be found on the American Community Survey website in the Technical Documentation section.

Sample size and data quality measures (including coverage rates, allocation rates, and response rates) can be found on the American Community Survey website in the Methodology section.

Although the American Community Survey (ACS) produces population, demographic and housing unit estimates, it is the Census Bureau's Population Estimates Program that produces and disseminates the official estimates of the population for the nation, states, counties, cities, and towns and estimates of housing units for states and counties.

Data are based on a sample and are subject to sampling variability. The degree of uncertainty for an estimate arising from sampling variability is represented through the use of a margin of error. The value shown here is the 90 percent margin of error. The margin of error can be interpreted roughly as providing a 90 percent probability that the interval defined by the estimate minus the margin of error and the estimate plus the margin of error (the lower and upper confidence bounds) contains the true value. In addition to sampling variability, the ACS estimates are subject to nonsampling error (for a discussion of nonsampling variability, see Accuracy of the Data). The effect of nonsampling error is not represented in these tables.

The 65 years and over column of data refers to the age of the householder for the estimates of households, occupied housing units, owner-occupied housing units, and renter-occupied housing units lines.

The age specified on the population 15 years and over, population 25 years and over, population 30 years and over, civilian population 18 years and over, civilian population 5 years and over, population 1 years and over, population 5 years and over, and population 16 years and over lines refer to the data shown in the "Total" column while the second column is limited to the population 65 years and over.

Methodological changes to data collection in 2013 may have affected language data for 2013. Users should be aware of these changes when using 2013 data or multi-year data containing data from 2013. For more information, see: Language User Note.

The Census Bureau introduced a new set of disability questions in the 2008 ACS questionnaire. Accordingly, comparisons of disability data from 2008 or later with data from prior years are not recommended. For more information on these questions and their evaluation in the 2006 ACS Content Test, see the Evaluation Report Covering Disability.

Telephone service data are not available for certain geographic areas due to problems with data collection of this question that occurred in 2015 and 2016. Both ACS 1-year and ACS 5-year files were affected. It may take several years in the ACS 5-year files until the estimates are available for the geographic areas affected.

While the 2013-2017 American Community Survey (ACS) data generally reflect the February 2013 Office of Management and Budget (OMB) definitions of metropolitan and micropolitan statistical areas; in certain instances the names, codes, and boundaries of the principal cities shown in ACS tables may differ from the OMB definitions due to differences in the effective dates of the geographic entities.

Estimates of urban and rural populations, housing units, and characteristics reflect boundaries of urban areas defined based on Census 2010 data. As a result, data for urban and rural areas from the ACS do not necessarily reflect the results of ongoing urbanization.

Explanation of Symbols:

1. An '' entry in the margin of error column indicates that either no sample observations or too few sample observations were available to compute a standard error and thus the margin of error. A statistical test is not appropriate.
2. An '-' entry in the estimate column indicates that either no sample observations or too few sample observations were available to compute an estimate, or a ratio of medians cannot be calculated because one or both of the median estimates falls in the lowest interval or upper interval of an open-ended distribution.
3. An '-' following a median estimate means the median falls in the lowest interval of an open-ended distribution.
4. An '+' following a median estimate means the median falls in the upper interval of an open-ended distribution.
5. An '*' entry in the margin of error column indicates that the median falls in the lowest interval or upper interval of an open-ended distribution. A statistical test is not appropriate.
6. An '' entry in the margin of error column indicates that the estimate is controlled. A statistical test for sampling variability is not appropriate.
7. An 'N' entry in the estimate and margin of error columns indicates that data for this geographic area cannot be displayed because the number of sample cases is too small.
8. An '(X)' means that the estimate is not applicable or not available.

- Disparity - growth, income, jobs, education.
- Migration - attracting and retaining the right fit.
- Aging - labor force, income, housing, jobs
- Changes to industries - booms, downturns, automation.
- Increasing racial and ethnic diversity.
- Slowing income growth
- Population growth (but slowing) - planning for the people (and everything that comes with them)

Why is Colorado Aging Fast?

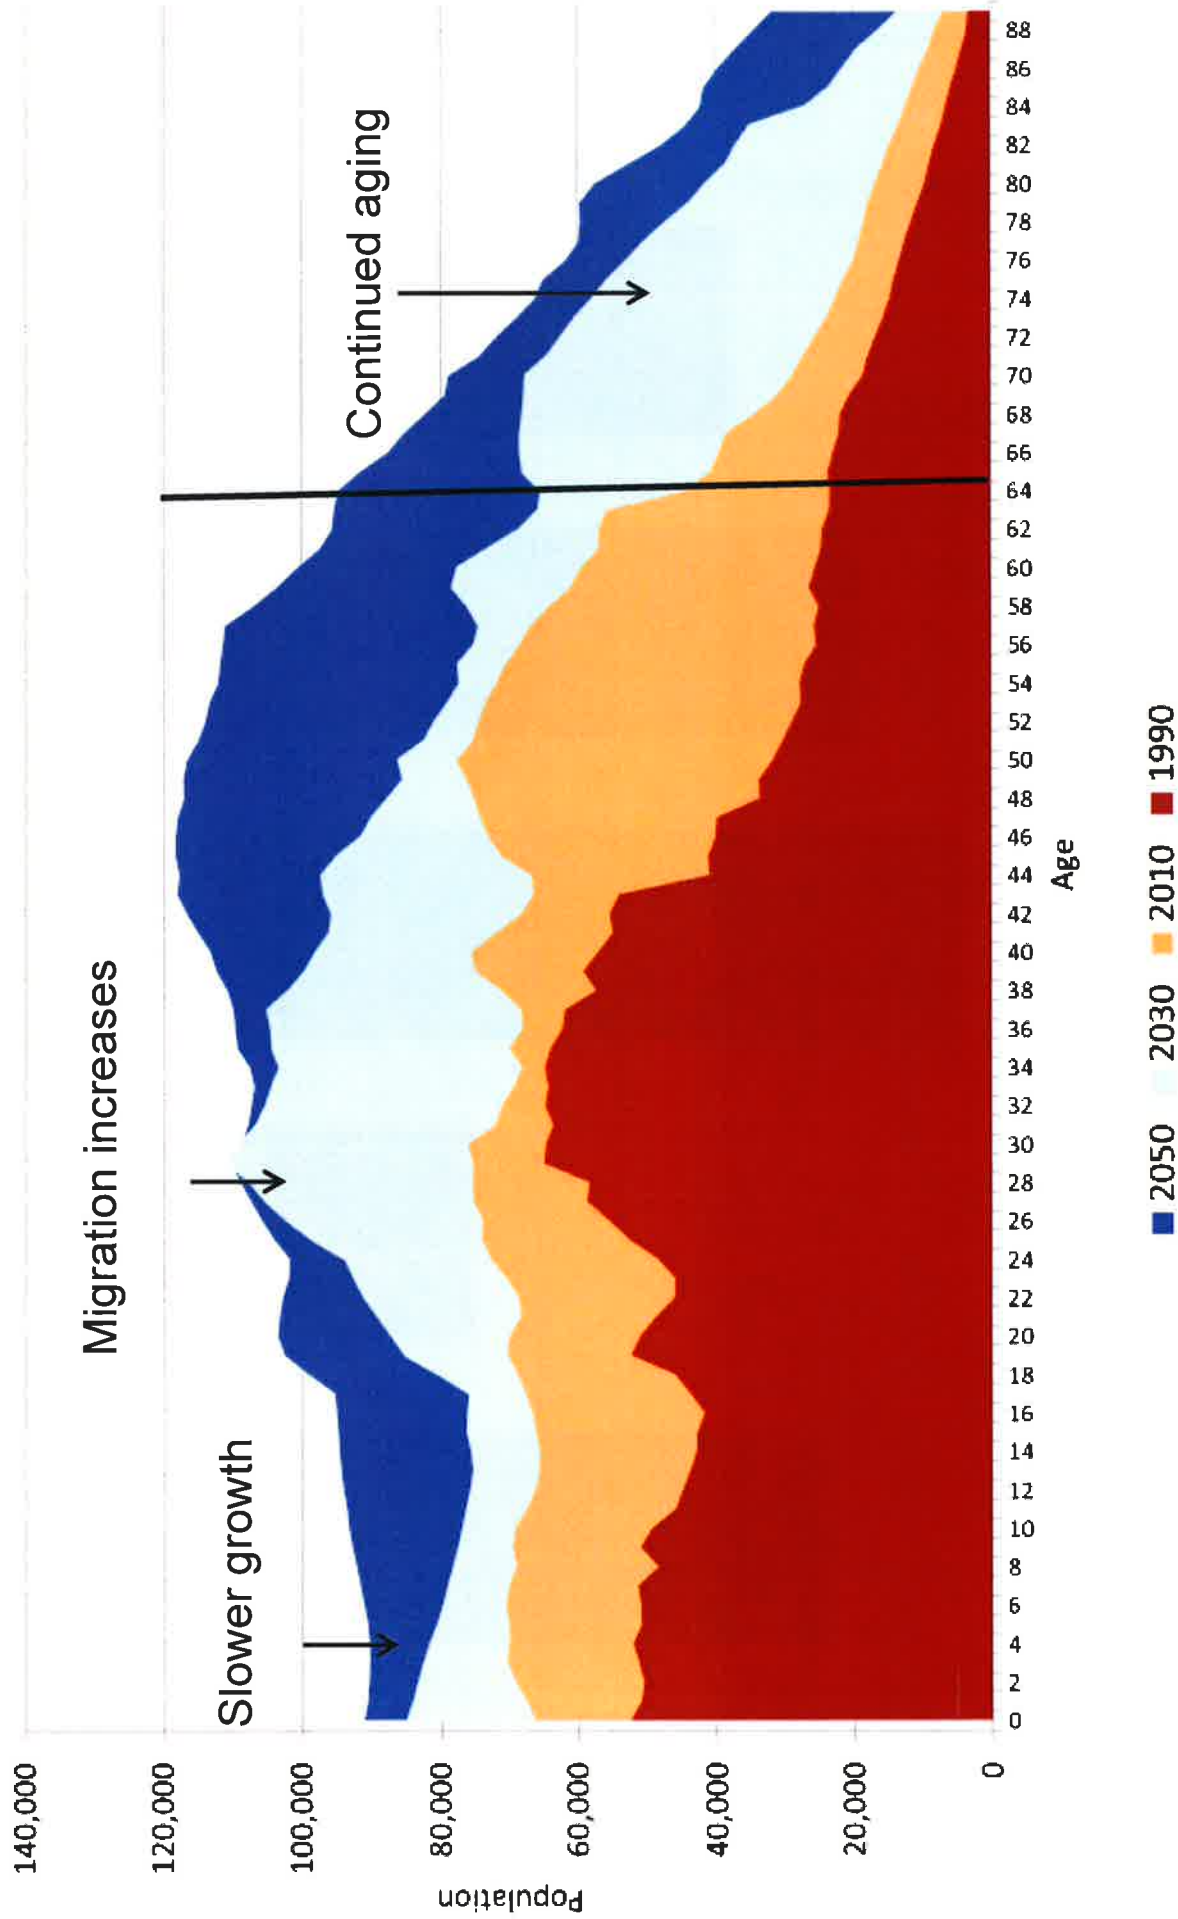

STAC Packet - August 2018 - Additional Materials Page 49

- Currently very few people over the age 65.
 - 6th lowest share at 13% in 2015
 - 3rd fastest growing at 4.6%
- Baby Boomers
 - Born 1946 – 1964
 - 1,340,000 Boomers in Colorado (26% of pop. in 2010)
- By 2030, Colorado’s population 65+ will be 77% larger than it was in 2015, increasing from 719,000 to 1,270,000. (just from aging)
- Transition age distribution from “young” to more US average between 2015 and 2030.

Much higher growth rate than other age groups in Colorado.

Aging Issues

- Numbers - 2015-30 increase 65+ 72% from 711,000 to 1,200,000
- Economic Driver
 - Impact on occupational mix. Growing at 5% per year. Wages/Income
- Labor Force
- Housing - primarily home owners
- Income - Downward Pressure
- Health
- Disabilities
- Transportation
- Public Finance - Downward Pressure

Economic Impact From Aging

STAC Packet - August 2018 - Additional Materials Page 55

- Support .3 jobs per person 65+ = 240,000 in 2014
- Forecast to grow to 410,400 by 2025.
- Top Occupations - office, admin, sales, food prep, health care (personal care aides, nursing assistants, registered nurses)
- Many of the jobs in occupations with low wages, a few at higher wages.
- 1 of every 10 jobs (all) forecast to be home health aides and personal care aides. (Bureau of Labor Statistics)

COLORADO

Department of Local Affairs

Labor Force

- Boomers are 37% of the labor force (2010)
 - Staying longer in workforce - want and need to
 - Participation rates for ages 65+ increasing.
 - Approx. 1,000,000 workers aging out the next 20 years.
- Increase demands
 - Replacement and demands created by retiree needs
 - Largest increase in leavers between 2020-2025
- Participation falling at the younger end.
- Demands will vary by industry -
 - Education, Health, Utilities, Mining, Govt.
 - Current low numbers of Long Term Care Workers and Gerontologist
 - Doctors accepting Medicare
- Increase in demand for caregivers - informal sector

Average Age of Entrants and Retirees

■ 20 ■ 60

Incomes peak for those in their 40s and 50s

Average 2015 Incomes

Implications for Public Finance / Planning

- Per Capita income growth will not be as rapid
- Per capita taxable expenditures will likely decline
- Property tax collections per capita dip due to “down-sizing” by elderly population and “Homestead Act” Tax Abatements
- Increasing demand for public services due to aging population
- Policy-makers must plan public finance priorities
 - and expenditure/tax mix accordingly.

Summary of Aging Trends

- Numbers issue because Colorado has really never had a large share of people over 65 compared to the rest of its population.
- Largest changes expected in Front Range and Western Slope but will have statewide impact due to numbers.
- Implications for Economy, Labor Force, Housing, Transportation, Healthcare, etc
- Forecasting Net Migration of 65+ to Colorado to remain close to zero but..... that could change
 - Could be higher - based on family
 - Could be lower - based on costs and potential lack of amenities

Household Income.... its future is demographically challenged.

- Age distributions - “End of “Demographic Dividend”
- Occupational Mix - high and low service
- More race/ethnicity diverse especially at young end but achievement gap is growing as well.
- Household type and size - single and smaller.
- Youth un and under employment - Long term permanent impacts on earnings.

Projected Population Change 2015 to 2050

Colorado State Demography Office, 11/3/2017

Risks (plus or minus)

- Housing - supply, price 6th highest, 2nd worst change in affordability
- National Growth - Fertility, National Immigration Policy
- Water - climate
- Labor force - aging, prepared, race/ethnicity, participation rates, automation
- Infrastructure/Transportation
- State budget/policy
- Education - affordable, range of options, race/ethnicity
- Aging - will we retain them, labor force, services, cost
- Industry changes - downturn, automation

Summary Trends

- Growing but slowing - related to aging and slowing US Growth both population and jobs.
- Disparate growth- what is causing it and what can be done?
- Forecasting continued job growth
- Migration - how do we continue to attract and retain the best worker for the right job.
- Aging - labor force, jobs, income, housing, public finance
- Labor force - strategies to increase labor force participation
- Increase race/ethnic diversity - education, labor force
- Plan for changes in industries - amazon, climate, automation, manufacture, construction.
- Downward pressure on household income - age, jobs, cost of education, home ownership

FORECAST – TRENDS

- Slower job growth through 2020 as U.S. growth rate slows and # of leavers (retirees) increases.
- Increase in Household Jobs – those supported by spending of Retirees and Investment / Unearned Income
- Front-Range (+ Mesa, Garfield & La Plata) location of employment growth due to diversified Economic Base
- Local Resident Services jobs will expand to meet the needs of a growing population
