WHO Secretariat of the Global Network of Age-Friendly Cities and Communities

Šabac, 5th November 2024

On behalf of the city of Šabac, I am pleased to write to express our dedication to fostering an age-friendly environment throughout our municipality and to formally request membership in the World Health Organization's Global Network of Age-Friendly Cities and Communities.

Šabac, located in Serbia, is a front-runner in providing age-friendly services that empower our citizens and support a community where everyone can remain healthy and age safely. We are committed to enhancing social participation, promoting security, and valuing the diversity and unique contributions of older generations.

Our city has established a robust framework to support the eight factors influencing healthy and active aging. This commitment is exemplified by our "Council for Improving the Position of the Elderly and the Local Community," which works to improve the quality of life for all citizens and promote a healthy, active lifestyle across all age groups. The city assembly recently adopted the "Local Action Plan for Improving the Position of Older People in the Local Community for 2024 and 2025." This plan emphasizes sustainable, innovative projects, involvement of older citizens in decision-making processes, and intergenerational solidarity and cooperation.

We see tremendous value in WHO's network for Age-Friendly Cities and Communities and aspire to both learn from and contribute to it, creating practices that promote age-friendly environments and empower our citizens. Šabac is eager to share its experiences, benefit from shared knowledge, and foster synergies with other network members.
