

30, Simingongwon-ro, Busanjin-gu,
Busan (Buam-dong), Republic of Korea
Tel: +82-51-605-4002
Fax: +82-51-605-4829

June 18, 2025

World Health Organization

WHO Global Network of Age-Friendly Cities and Communities

To Whom It May Concern,

Busanjin-gu aims to build a "community where all generations are happy together" by joining the WHO Global Network and deriving promotion strategies and policy tasks suitable for regional conditions to create an age-friendly city.

In order to create an age-friendly Busanjin-gu, we would like to pursue a vibrant age-friendly city created by the whole generation, considering the geographical factors located in the center of Busan and the characteristics that the younger generation and the elderly share space and culture together.

The WHO recommends establishing an age-friendly model suitable for the local conditions and circumstances of the city and developing an appropriate urban policy. Based on the guidelines for the age-friendly city in WHO, we intend to promote the age-friendly project in a total of eight areas by considering the feasibility of the age-friendly project as a top priority.

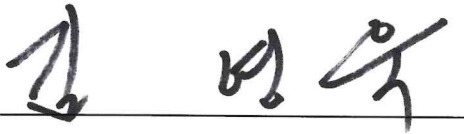

Busanjin-gu intends to share experiences and learn about the creation of age-friendly cities with other cities around the world while cooperating with the WHO's age-friendly cities network.

Busanjin-gu intends to pursue the growth and development of the city by establishing an age-friendly city action plan by referring to the WHO's goals and guidelines for promoting an age-friendly city and promoting plans and projects for a happy community.

I look forward to becoming a part of the WHO Age-Friendly Network, sharing experience and learning with other cities and communities around the world.

I appreciate your consideration in advance.

Yours sincerely

A handwritten signature in black ink, consisting of stylized Korean characters, positioned above a horizontal line.

Kim Young Wook

Mayor of Busanjin-gu