Active management of the third stage of labour

27 June 2016
Active management of the third stage of labour includes administering a uterotonic after birth of the baby, controlled cord traction and clamping and cutting of the cord once the uterus contracts.

Source URL: https://extranet.who.int/rhl/resources/videos/active-management-third-stage-labour
Published on RHL (https://extranet.who.int/rhl)

Home > Active management of the third stage of labour